Apply now for the Supply Chain Awards!

Munich, May 9, 2019 - The competition for the coveted Supply Chain Awards 2019 has started. The trade magazine LOGISTIK HEUTE and Strategy& together with PwC are once again looking for outstanding supply chain solutions.

About the awards

For the 14th time, the Supply Chain Management Award recognizes companies with outstanding value chains - companies that have optimized their supply chain in a consistent or extraordinary way and whose concepts are groundbreaking for other companies as well.

The Smart Solution Award, which was awarded for the very first time in 2018, honors particularly innovative concepts that are still in an early stage of implementation. With this prize, solutions are honored that have the potential to fundamentally change traditional value chains in the future.

“The winners of the Supply Chain Management Awards benefit from the considerable attention it receives in professional circles. In addition, numerous positive effects result – internally, in relationships with customers and suppliers, and also as employers. In general, all applicants receive valuable feedback for the further development of their own supply chain from the application process. Although there is ultimately only one winner, all applicants benefit from the competition,” explains Dr. Petra Seebauer (Managing Director, EUROEXPO; Publisher, LOGISTIK HEUTE).

Harald Geimer (Partner at PwC Management Consulting): “The solutions of the Supply Chain Award winners of the previous years were very varied. However, all of these award-winning solutions have one thing in common: they have all helped to significantly improve competitiveness and have been a game-changing example also for other companies.”

About the application process

Applications are open to corporations from all industries. We also welcome partnership applications from companies linked by a first-class network or from companies that have developed exemplary cross-company supply chain solutions. Companies from Germany and other European countries can participate.

The most convincing candidates are invited to present their concepts live to the audience and the jury at EXCHAIiNGE in Frankfurt am Main on November 26, 2019. Based on the available information and their impressions, the independent jury of high-caliber experts consisting of representatives from industry, science, consulting and professional media selects the award winners.

The award ceremony will be held during the EXCHAIiNGE Award Night in Frankfurt on November 27, 2019.

Last year's International Supply Chain Summit EXCHAIiNGE gave many new impulses and there are already exciting ideas for 2019 to bring together participants from different sectors. This year's agenda includes "Sustainable supply chains: First & last mile solutions", "Culture & Mindsets for digital transformation", "Block chain versus real solutions? Plain text in the buzzword jungle", "Start-ups, Corporates or Customers: How and where are trend-setting innovations created" and supply chain simulations.

Cut-off date

All applications completed and submitted by July 15, 2019, will be included in the selection process.
