Customer benefit shapes the development

All LAMILUX products are designed to satisfy a number of requirements at the same time. They always offer at least 2-in-1 or even 3-in-1 benefits. This means that LAMILUX GRP, for example, combines a harmonious appearance with robustness and durability, and reduces processing costs and the number of processing steps for customers at the same time. “The added benefits are the hallmark of our products: we analyse the application situations of our customers and produce the ideal products to satisfy their requirements”, says Marketing Consultant Markus Bächer. “In this respect, we consider it our job to keep on developing: to serve the customer, whatever the challenge.”
