

Press Release

Contract of Chairman of the Executive Board Leonhard Birnbaum extended until 2028

At its meeting today, the Supervisory Board of E.ON SE extended the contract of CEO Leonhard Birnbaum by a further five years until 30 June 2028. Birnbaum has been a member of the Group's management body since 2013 and has been E.ON's CEO since April 2021.

Supervisory Board Chairman Karl-Ludwig Kley commented on the contract extension: "As Chairman of the Board of Management, Leonhard Birnbaum has further sharpened the E.ON Group's strategy with its clear focus on sustainability, digitalisation and growth. He steers E.ON with a sure hand through the current energy crisis and enjoys great trust and high esteem among the Supervisory Board, within the Group as well as among our external partners in politics, business and among our customers. We are convinced that he is the right man at the head of the Group to not only master the enormous, short-term challenges together with his Board of Management team, but also to take advantage of the opportunities that will present themselves for E.ON as a sustainable platform for the energy transition in Europe in the coming years."

This press release may contain forward-looking statements based on current assumptions and forecasts made by E.ON Group Management and other information currently available to E.ON. Various known and unknown risks, uncertainties, and other factors could lead to material differences between the actual future results, financial situation, development or performance of the company and the estimates given here. E.ON SE does not intend, and does not assume any liability whatsoever, to update these forward-looking statements or to align them to future events or developments.
