"Since joining STADA in 2019," Goldschmidt stated, "Christos has shown himself to be a mature and thoughtful leader of his South-Eastern and Eastern Cluster, guiding these markets to substantial growth and successfully integrating both the Walmark vitamins, minerals and supplements business, and the consumer healthcare brands gained through transactions with GSK and Sanofi. I would like to thank Stephan for leading the Eastern European region very successfully at the STADA Executive Committee level for the past year, on top of his current role, and I'm happy he can now fully focus on the growth agenda in all our Western European markets."
