Ukraine +++ Doctors Without Borders +++ NOMOS Glashütte

Dear Journalists,

In Ukraine, Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF) has now begun supplying clinics with medicines and medical supplies. It is a “humanitarian race against time”, says Anja Wolz, who is currently working for Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF) in Lviv, Ukraine. More here.

At NOMOS Glashütte, we only manufacture watches, but for the past decade, we have been working with the Nobel Prize-winning aid organization that provides aid to people in need around the world. And we make watches that support Doctors Without Borders: Tangibly, with monetary support. Funds are not earmarked, which provide the greatest possible flexibility for those who help.

Hence, we not only wish to share with you the latest news from MSF, but also the latest NOMOS model, Tangente 38 – 50 ans de Médecins Sans Frontières, which we created to mark 50 years of Doctors Without Borders. Like all NOMOS watches for Doctors Without Borders, it is characterized by a red twelve. 100 euros from each watch goes to helping the people in Ukraine, along with many other crisis regions around the world. Alternatively, you can donate directly: Donate now.

If you would like more information about our collaboration or NOMOS special models partnered with Doctors Without Borders, spokespeople from both organizations or images, please feel free to contact us.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Alexa Montag

Doctors Without Borders at the Ukrainian border: Because many people arrive here completely exhausted after fleeing for days, the aid organization is also sending mobile clinics, in addition to medicines and other supplies.

Tangente 38 – 50 ans de Médecins Sans Frontières: The red twelve is a nod to the emergency relief organization that has been fighting against the impact of epidemics, natural disasters and displacement worldwide for 50 years. Red is the color of Doctors Without Borders and giving aid. With this limited special model, NOMOS Glashütte is supporting Médecins Sans Frontières, which is now also providing aid to people in Ukraine.
