Transformation NOW! 2022 – Event series of one of Europe's largest SAP partner events shows tech innovation and industry trends

NTT DATA Business Solutions, SAP's global leading partner for medium sized companies, invites delegates to gain insights into tech innovation and industry trends at Transformation NOW! 2022. Starting in June 2022, the planned SAP partner event series will go on tour throughout the year. Transformation NOW! will make stops in Turkey, United Kingdom, Germany, Switzerland, and Denmark. Further events are in the planning stage and information will be provided as soon as possible.

The events are organized differently in each country. Thus, it will be possible to attend the events in person on site or to follow the presentations online. Some events are also planned as hybrid events. Events that are organized purely digitally are open to everyone across countries. This gives participants access to trends and developments as well as country-specific innovations that they are less likely to hear about in their own home market.

"Speed is crucial in a digital world. It is about bringing digital trends into application quickly. Especially in these dynamic times this is more important than ever. We provide insights into technology trends, the latest and field-proven SAP solutions, and our own innovative developments for the digital transformation of companies." says Norbert Rotter, CEO of NTT DATA Business Solutions AG.

Pinpoint accuracy – to master the digital transformation

Focusing on the essentials is the number 1 success factor of Transformation NOW! events. Companies that are strategically driving forward their digital transformation will see, in a nutshell, how digital solutions can improve value creation.

As a globally successful and award-winning SAP consultancy, NTT DATA Business Solutions has a profound overview of how companies master the digital transformation. The Transformation NOW! program is complemented by customer experiences, partner knowledge and the global resources, capabilities, and strengths of the NTT DATA Group.

The summits will showcase current technology trends, strategies, and business models, as well as how to put them into practice. In each of the high-level sessions, experts provide insights into the latest technologies, data, and processes as well as corporate culture aspects of digital projects.

The country-specific events are complemented by a series of inspiring talks, exciting live demos, guided workshops, and customer Q&A sessions. A key focus will be on presentations that demonstrate how SAP technologies can be integrated to power business applications and provide decision makers with real-time access to information.
