Pfäffikon/Switzerland (ots) -

- Following Axfood in Sweden and a new group of Polish retailers, the international retail alliance can now extend its collaboration with the A-brand industry in Scandinavia to encompass the renowned Danish retailer

To offer even more benefits to its millions of retail customers, European Marketing Distribution (EMD) is strengthening its presence in Scandinavia. Following the recently announced integration of Swedish retailer Axfood, Dagrofa from Denmark will become another EMD member of the EMD Retail Group in 2026. Dagrofa has held an EMD share since 2002.

For clarification: While EMD and its member companies focus on the procurement and marketing of successful private label products, the EMD members united in the Retail Group also provide cross-border services and marketing concepts in cooperation with leading multinational A-brand manufacturers.

As part of the Retail Group, Dagrofa from Denmark will be working with prominent and successful retail companies in their respective home countries from 2026 onwards. Players such as the Euromadi Alfa Group from Spain, ESD Italia, Superunie from the Netherlands, RTG International from Germany, Axfood from Sweden and a new group of retail companies from Poland are already involved in the Retail Group.

The core tasks for the members of the EMD Retail Group and the new member Dagrofa are clearly defined: to promote and market established and sought-after top brand products (including country-specific innovations and variations of these A-brands) that are indispensable for customers in international retail. The EMD Retail Group collaborates with prominent industry manufacturers, including these well-known A-brands.

Dagrofa is a major player in Denmark

With four supermarket formats: Spar, MENY, MinKoebmand and Let-Koeb, Dagrofa is present in Denmark with 540 stores, having a market share in the retail industry of close to 11% in Denmark. Dagrofa also has considerable wholesale and foodservice business units with 30 Cash & Carry stores.

The group brings into the EMD Retail Group an additional consumer turnover of 2,8 billion Euros.

Jesper Bjerring, Chief Procurement Officer at Dagrofa, commented on becoming part of the Retail Group: "Joining the EMD Retail Group is a strategic move for Dagrofa. It provides us with access to new insights, cross-border partnerships and robust international brand concepts that will benefit both our customers and our independent retailers in Denmark. The cooperative and value-oriented approach of the EMD Retail Group is in perfect alignment with our long-term goal of being a modern and trustworthy partner for the international A-brand industry."

Philippe Gruyters, Managing Director of EMD also said: "With Dagrofa from Denmark on board, we can further strengthen our cooperation with the A-brand industry in Scandinavia, just like our already very long history of successful cooperation on Private Label. With Dagrofa and Axfood now we can further expand our strong offering in the highly dynamic Scandinavian market."
